In 1924, a paper-back book was published for the first Student Body of Lenoir Rhyne College. That first volume took its name from three aspects of college life: HALLS, CAmpus, WAlls. Fifty years ago these three words appropriately described college life. Hence, the book was filled with photographs indicative of that time: darkened hallways, rigidly-posed people, and stately buildings. But today, LR is more than that. Many of the buildings are still the same, but the atmosphere nurtures uniqueness. To capture that atmosphere is the objective of the 1974 HACAWA.

Highland Academy — the building in which Lenoir College began in 1891. ♦

Lenoir College was formally opened on September 1, 1891. The beautiful and spacious campus was the gift of Captain Walter Lenoir, in whose honor the College was originally named. The will of Captain Lenoir stipulated that an initial $10,000 for buildings and equipment be deposited with his executor, Colonial J. G. Hall. This amount was provided by the founders, Drs. R. A. Yoder, J. C. Moser, W. P. Cline and the Rev. A. L. Crouse, by discounting their individual notes, involving as collateral their entire possessions. In 1923-24, the name of the College was changed to Lenoir Rhyne College in honor of M. D. E. Rhyne, who gave a large sum toward the endowment of the College.

Throughout its history Lenoir Rhyne has been closely identified with the Church, maintaining a strong Christian emphasis in its program. A distinct purpose has been the training of an educated leadership for the Church. The dominant policy of the College is to maintain academic excellence in a strong Christian environment.

DR. JOSEPH GLASS

The Senior Class of 1974 dedicates this edition of the HACAWA to a man who brightens many days for many people. He is even tempered, always the same, never frustrated, never excited, always sociable. And always talkative, generally with something to say well worth listening to. With great respect and admiration we dedicate this 1974 HACAWA to our professor and friend, DR. JOSEPH GLASS.

COLLEGE BOWL

A highlight of Spring at LR is the annual COLLEGE BOWL. Since this event always comes after the final deadline for the HACAWA, no remembrance is placed in the annual of this event, which involves more students than any other single co-curricular activity. Thirty-two teams come from every section of the Student Body: dorm and commuter, male and female, Greek and Independent, freshman and senior. They compete in the "battle of the brains" as they answer toss-up questions and then qualify for bonus questions, worth more points. Questions come from all areas including science, history, sports, trivia, et cetera. A student staff joins with a faculty moderator to form the directors of the Bowl. Some 160 students take part as the elimination process narrows the teams down to two for the final round for the championship. An All-College Bowl Team of outstanding participants is named at the end of the final rounds.

The Lenoir Rhyne College Tennis team for 1973 turned in the best performance to date in the still young tennis history at the college. The Bears, coached by Claude Brewer and Joe Glass, ended the '73 campaign with an overall record of 12-1. Elon College was the only team to defeat the Bear netters, the loss coming after 8 consecutive victories.

Jim Mauney led the squad at the 1st singles position. Mike Hogewood teamed with Mauney in 1st doubles and alternated with Robbie Michalove in the 2nd and 3rd singles slots. Giles Beal held the 4th singles position and teamed with Liles Suddreth for 2nd doubles. Ron Denney, David Carpenter, John Anderson, and Suddreth alternated at the 5th and 6th singles positions, with Michalove and Anderson making up the 3rd doubles team.

The Lenoir Rhyne College Golf team took to the links in 1973 as defending champions of the Carolinas Conference and the N.A.I.A. 26th District. The Bear golfers turned in another fine performance in '73 winning 8 of 15 matches and placing second in the Carolinas Conference tournament. The team was coached by Jack Huss.

1973 Debate Team Gains National Recognition

Two highlights of the 1973 Debate Season were the Invitational Debate Tournament, sponsored by Brooklyn College, and the North Carolina State Championship Tournament, held at East Carolina University. At the New York tourney, LR Debaters finished first in the regular tournament but were defeated by Pace College and received second place honors. At the ECU event, competing against 17 teams from North Carolina colleges and universities, LR took second and third places. In individual competition, Doug Bean and David Deal tied each other for second and third places at ECU, and at Brooklyn they received distinguished debating certificates, as well as a certificate for team performance. It is not an understatement, therefore, to say the 1973 Debate Team brought LR national recognition.

The highlight of the school year for Greeks is the annual Greek Awards ceremony, at which fraternity and sorority members are honored for excellence and achievement. Founded in 1966, the awards are conferred in many areas: Greek affairs, intramurals, drama, community service, scholarship, citizenship, et cetera. The ceremony, held in Monroe Auditorium, features some 25 to 30 people on the program, and over 50 awards are given. Among the most coveted awards given are the Man and Woman of the Year Awards and the Citizenship Awards. In 1972-73, Michael Payseur was Man of the Year and Sandra Keiser received the Woman of the Year Award. The Citizenship awards went to Bob Pettis and Pat Haney. The Greek groups make the nominations for the various awards and the final winners are chosen by committees composed of both faculty and students.

Choir Tour Featured Mid-Western States Plus New Orleans

For the past 40 years, the Lenoir Rhyne College A Cappella Choir has made an annual Spring Tour. Although the eastern seaboard has been the main route for the choir, the 1973 tour featured an itinerary through the Mid-Western states. Known nationally as one of the most outstanding college choirs, the group has been accompanied recently by the LRC Brass Ensemble, who add a new dimension to the music that is performed. Plans for the future include a regional tour of the Carolinas, Georgia, and Florida in the Spring of 1974 and a three-week European Tour in June of 1974. Again the Choir will be accompanied by the Brass Ensemble, directed by Dr. Ralph Gabriel. The Choir is under the direction of E. Ray McNeely.

ΘΧ Battle in Intramural Action.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

The ball is hiked; the quarterback throws a pass; it's complete for a touchdown. The girls go wild — that's right — girls. Powder puff season opened in September with eight teams of girls, full of enthusiasm and excitement; it ended in October with lots of bruises but memories of lots of fun. Members of the yellow and red leagues battled to get to the single-elimination tournament. Regular season standings left the Kappa Delta Bombers at the top of the red league and the Swingers on top of the yellow league. Single elimination placed the KD Bombers against the Sigma Kappa Crackerjacks in the final match. The Crackerjacks were victorious with a 12-7 win. Despite the fact that the girls played on the parking lot field, in its second year powder puff football proved to be competitive but fun for all.

We interrupt this Annual to bring you a Special News Bulletin:

You are now one-fourth of the way through this pictorial account of a year at LRC. Throughout this book and throughout the year, you will be exposed to the positive and negative aspects of college life. You will question the relevance of your college education. You will be exposed to the problems of the nation and, on a smaller scale, the conflicts on campus. In the midst of all this confusion, conflict, and disorder, let us all strive for one cause — unity.

PROGRAM BOARD COMMITTEES BRIGHTEN CHRISTMAS SEASON.

Instructional Services

Chaired by Fan McGlohan, this committee is responsible for a variety of activities for the Student Body. Included in events they sponsor are macrame classes, yoga, candlemaking, and the campus-wide Christmas party for the children of Hickory. The committee members are: Vicki Bilgen, Phil Carter, Phyllis Coleman, Sally Darsey, Jan Epting, Patt Hatcher, Chuck Hostetter, Fan McGlohan, Regina McKnight, Libby Pope, Steve Smith, and Jan Turner.

House Committee

Keeping the Student Center in good condition is the main job of the House Committee. Presently, the members of the committee — George Arthur, Marilyn Brown, Paul Hartman, Ellen Moretz, Dianna Ross, and Chairman Kaye Brown, — are working on plans for the "Union". All decorations for Christmas, up-keep of the furniture and other miscellaneous items are handled by this Program Board Committee.

◆ Tinsel and garland added brightness to the tree — for the first year it stood without lights.

the player

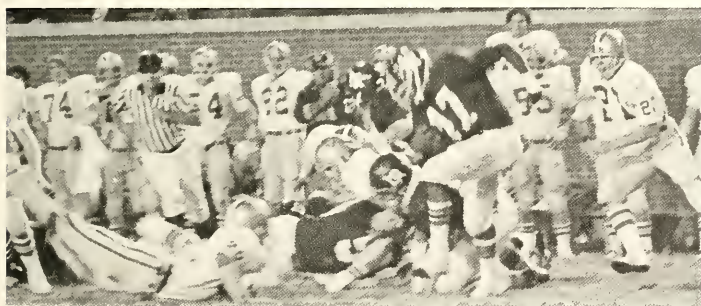

football is a lot like chess. the preplanned, intricate offensive and defensive strategies, which are dependent on the moves of the opposition, must often be changed in a moment's time. and then occurs a phenomenon unique to the sport. at the snap of the ball the twenty-two figures, so precisely positioned the moment before, merge into a mountain of bodies, only to rise and once again assume their positions on the field.

the spectacle

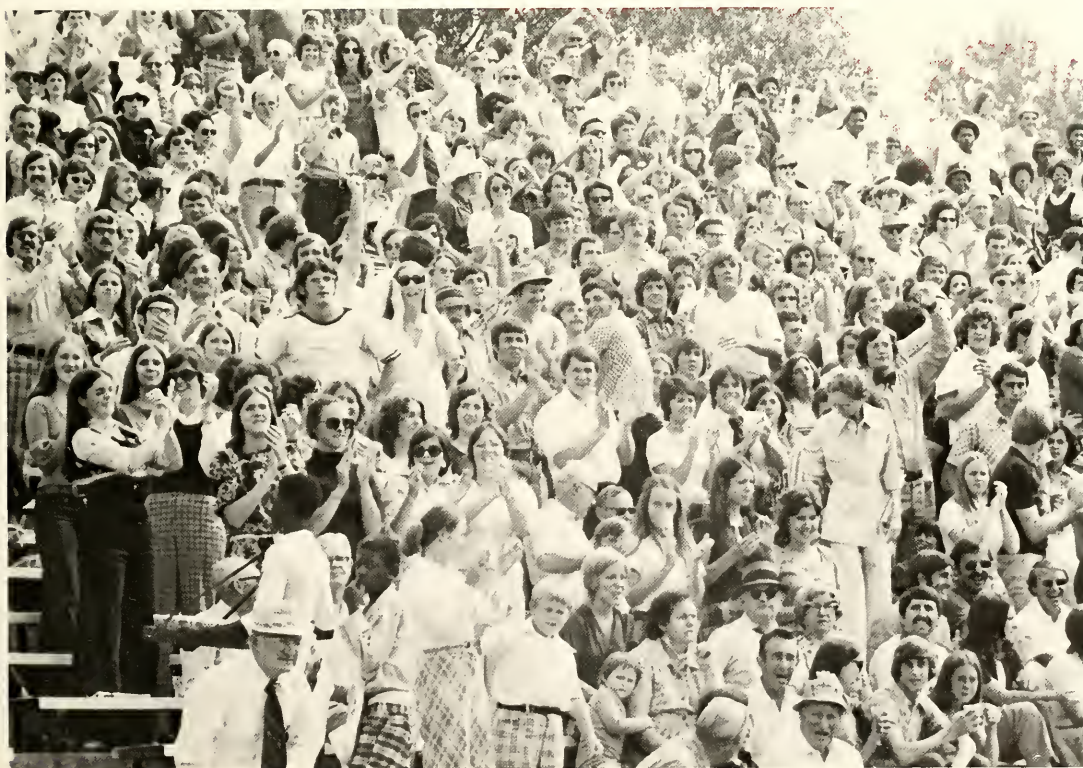

the performance in the bleachers renders as much excitement as does the action on the field. dates, drinks, and their resultant revelry vie with the game for the crowd's attention. while some remain caught up in the drama of the game, there are others, oblivious to the play, who choose to direct their attention to more immediate interests.

MEN'S FALL INTRAMURALS INCLUDES FOOTBALL, HORSESHOES, TENNIS

SUPERSONICS DEFEAT HAND-ZEES

The 1973 Men's Intramural Football season provided competition for men in two leagues, one for Independents, and one for the Greek Fraternities. Eight teams were entered in the Greek league and seven in the Independent circuit. At the end of regular season competition, the top two teams in each division met in a single elimination playoff to determine the '73 football champion.

First-round playoffs saw a complete turnaround as the second-place teams in each division won. The Hand-zees upset the regular season Greek division leading TKE Sugar Bears, while the SPE Supersonics defeated the Independent league leaders, Nuthin'. But the championship returned to the Greek league as the SPE Supersonics were victorious in the season finale against the Hand-zees.

Men's Intramurals ended the fall schedule of activities with the tennis-singles and horseshoe-singles championships. Single elimination tournaments were held to determine the champs in each event.

This year, many faculty members entered the tennis-singles competition. Their presence was felt by all, as two members of Lenoir Rhyne's faculty met for the championship. In the finals, Professor Kermit S. Turner, of the English department, defeated Dr. Donald G. Hayes, of the Education Department. It marked the first non-student finals in any intramural competition.

In the horseshoe competition, the Greeks dominated play. An all-Greek final between TKE president Hal White and defending champion SPE Bill Pettis ended competition. Hal White captured the crown by defeating Pettis two games to one in the final.

BEARS OF THE GRIDIRON

Lenoir Rhyne's "Bears of the Gridiron" entered the 1973 campaign under the reins of new head coach Danny Williams. With 32 returning lettermen, both Coach Williams and the squad had high hopes and expectations of vastly improving the 5-6 record compiled the previous year.

However, the Bears finished the '73 season with 5 wins, 5 losses, and a tie. Thus the improvement was not attained. When considering reasons for the failure, the problem could be summed up in one word . . . inconsistency.

It was a year that started quite well, but died in the stretch. The bears got off to a quick start, losing only one of their first six encounters. But only one win could be salvaged from the final five contests.

Schedule changes could have played a big part in the Bears' overall success. Dropped from previous schedules were Guilford and Winston-Salem State, two teams that had been easy prey for the Bears in recent years. Added in '73 were Mars Hill and Furman University. The addition of the Purple Paladins gave the Bears two contests with NCAA Southern Conference schools, Furman and Davidson.

Freshman Billy Lindsay showed Bear fans in the first 13 seconds of the season that the Bears meant business in 1973, as he carried the opening kickoff of the first game 100 yards for a touchdown. It was only one of many big plays that put points on the board.

The Bears employed a multiple-formation offense in 1973. When working right, it produced points almost at-will. However, as in '72, the defense had lapses that put extra pressure on the team's offense. Such was the case in two explosive wins; 31-29 over Wofford, and 31-26 over Catawba.

Although 1973 produced an even .500 season, the future looks extremely bright for the Bears. Only 5 seniors, All-Carolinas Conference star Jim Radick, Paul Black, Marvin Everett, Ken Bumgarner, and Dan McSwain, will be lost to the team through graduation. Returning will be four 1973 All-Carolinas Conference players — Kenny Martin, Scott Crawford, Barry Lekavich, and Van Tyson. Along with Crawford, the starting backfield of Mike Everett, Mike Robinson, Greg Corpening, and Mike McWhirter will return as the foundation upon which the '73 "Gridiron Bears" will depend.

Scott Crawford (40) runs for yardage against Davidson.

It's a team effort.

INTERCOLLEGIATE VOLLEYBALL

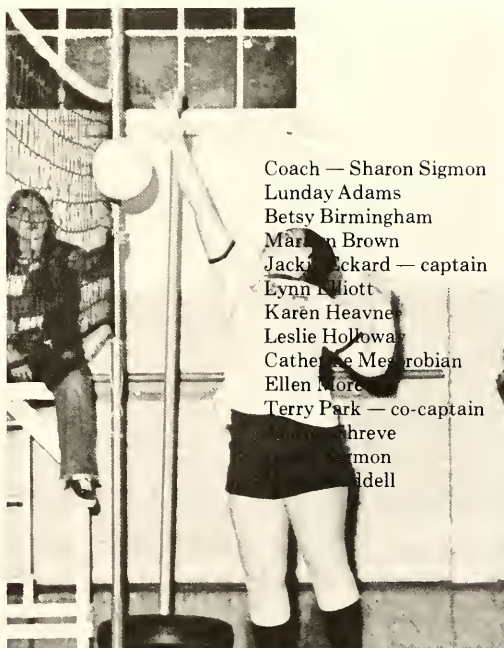

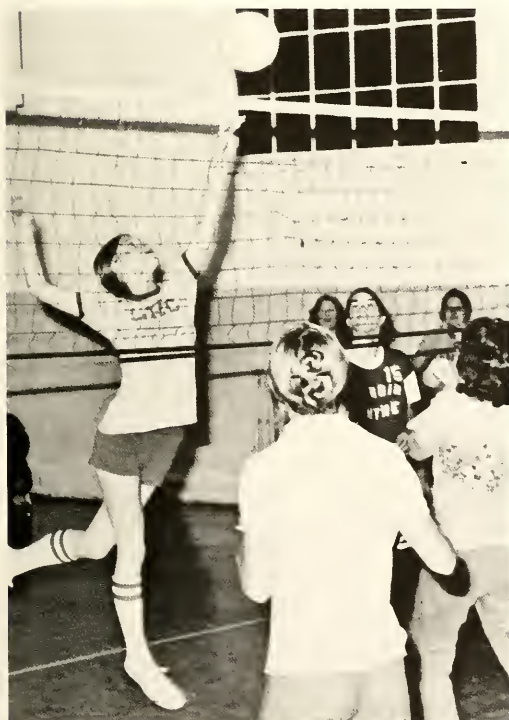

1974 marked the 2nd consecutive year for Women's Intercollegiate Volleyball at Lenoir Rhyne. The team, composed of 13 women and coached by Sharon Sigmon, competed on an intercollegiate level against Mars Hill College, Johnson C. Smith University, and Queens College, and extramurally against area teams. The team will lose two starters through graduation — Captain Jackie Eckard and Marilyn Brown. With the returning players, LR can enjoy exciting power volleyball next year, similar to Women's Intramural Volleyball.

Swingers Take Volleyball Championship For 2nd Consecutive Year

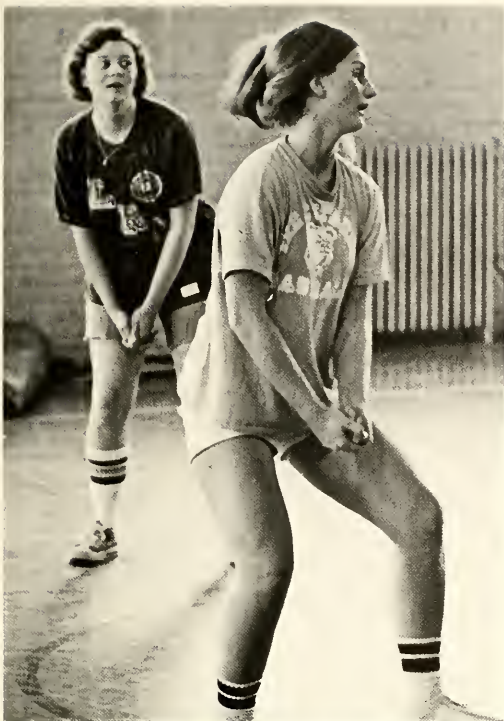

Women's Intramural Volleyball began tournament action with the KD Bombers favored over the Sigma Kappa's and the Swingers, but the two teams proved to be very stiff competition. In 1st round action, the Swingers and ΣK's split the first 2 games, with the Swingers winning the 3rd, thus meaning a chance for the title. The championship game was not played under a time limit — the first team to reach 15 points was the victor. Again the 1st 2 games were split between the KD's and the Swingers. Behind 10-0, the Swingers scored 9 consecutive points on the serve of Ellen Moretz and continued to defeat the Bombers 15-12.

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL

Intramural Volleyball held the spotlight for the Men's Intramural scene at the close of 1973. For many, it seemed quite repetitious as the finals found the same two teams at battle for the title as the previous year.

The competition began with four separate conferences being formed. The Blue League and the Red League were comprised of Independent teams, while the Greeks filled the Green and Black Leagues. Each team played every league member once and two games with non-conference opponents. The two teams with the best overall records in each league advanced to an eight-team, single-elimination tourney for the title.

After one round in the tournament, the SPE Supersonics, TKE Sugar Bears, Hotdogs I and Hand-Zees I advanced to the semi-finals. In the final night of competition, the Supersonics defeated Hand-Zees I in two games, and the Hogdogs I upset the Sugar Bears in the same fashion. Thus, the Supersonics and Hotdogs I met for the second consecutive year in the volleyball finals. Just as if the same script was used both years, again the Supersonics won easily, 13-9 and 15-4.

♦ Hot Dogs and Hand-zees compete in volleyball action.

National Debate Topic Affects Tournament Competition

◆ Renee Brown makes point #2.

1974 was a rebuilding year for the Albert Keiser Debate Forum, which represents Lenoir Rhyne in forensic tournaments. Transfer student Tom Tenton, a junior from Freeport, Illinois, was the team's main winner. Winning persuasive speaking events at Appalachian State and Catawba, he became the first LR student to compete in either the Individual Events National Tournament or the Tournament of Finalists.

Coached by Russell Brown, the squad was also represented in tournaments at Morris Harvey, Madison College, The Citadel, UNC-Greensboro, and the University of South Carolina. Assisting Brown with the coaching chores were former LR debaters Lou Rossiter and Bill Mauney, both members of the economics faculty.

On March 1 & 2 Lenoir Rhyne hosted the 42nd South Atlantic Forensics Tournament, attended by some 20 schools from North and South Carolina, and Virginia. Attendance at this year's tournament, considerably smaller than last year's, was hindered by a lack of gasoline. Ironically, the energy crisis was the 1974 National debate topic.

CO-ED VOLLEYBALL

For approximately 200 students who remained on campus for Interim, intramurals presented the opportunity for co-ed competition in volleyball, basketball, bowling and badminton. Teams were composed of 4 males and 4 females for volleyball and basketball and 2 of each for badminton and bowling. The idea for co-eds was first initiated by the newly-formed PE Club. Debi Nelson was in charge of scheduling and placement.

Three teams dominated the games throughout the month — The Bananas, The Peaches, and Sugarbears. In volleyball the Peaches defeated the Sugarbears for the championship with the Bananas finishing third. In basketball the Sugarbears took the tourney championship. Special rules were used to insure equal participation by both sexes.

Perhaps co-eds will be continued in the future, either in Interim or extended to include co-ed tennis and horseshoes. The influence of the opposite sex seemed to have somewhat of a settling effect on the competition.

John Glenn and Carolyn Brown practice the give-and-go.

♥ Head Coach — Bob Hodges

For the first time in the past three years, the Carolinas Conference Basketball Championship eluded the grasp of the Basketball Bears. The 1973-74 season was one of those inevitable rebuilding years that every good college team experiences. Lenoir Rhyne sent only four returning lettermen onto the court along with eight freshmen in quest of their third straight conference title.

Campbell College fell victim to the Bears in the season's opener and extended Lenoir Rhyne's home court winning streak that started back during the '71-'72 season. Unfortunately, this streak ended in the Bears' next away appearance, losing a heart-breaker in double overtime to Western Carolina.

Lack of experience began taking its toll on the Bears entered Conference competition. Defending N.A.I.A. National Champion Guilford handed LR its first conference loss. The remainder of the season saw the Bears see-saw back and forth remaining right at or around the .500 mark in conference play.

Seniors John Lentz and Hal White provided the leadership throughout the year. Lentz, ending a brilliant career at LR, once again led the team in most offensive categories, while scoring over 20 points per game. White enjoyed his finest season as a Bear averaging over 14 points per contest. Sophomore Wes Phillips and Freshmen Harry Shelton and Bill Allgood started throughout the season and showed great promise in future Bear squads. Nelson Hathcock, Mike Gibson, Daryl Byers, and Mark Hodges all saw plenty of action throughout the season and figure largely in Coach Hodges' plans to re-capture the Conference Championship in 1975.

“The Entertainment was great!”

STUDENTS COMMENT ON THE MISS HACA WA PAGEANT

It all started in 1972 when an editorial appeared in the November 9 issue of The Lenoir Rhynean concerning the American phenomenon known as the beauty pageant. The main question dealt with in the article was this: “Do these physically attractive females personify the true nature of the American youth which they are supposed to represent?” According to student reactions toward the pageant, the beauties are not a true representation of the ideals of youth. There were only half as many participants in this year’s pageant as compared to previous years. A higher entry fee and lack of interest could be considered the two main reasons for fewer females participating. The following student opinions, concerning the pageant, were given to members of the HACA WA Staff. Each person that was questioned was guaranteed he would remain anonymous in this publication.

“There are lots of pretty girls in the pageant, but it’s still a farce.”

“I think it stinks.”

“The entertainment was very good.”

“I thought it would be different but again it’s a horse-show.”

“I thought all the girls looked very nice!”

“The judges don’t really know the girls.”

“There needs to be talent competition.”

With the close of winter intramurals came numerous complaints about scheduling, referees, and other assorted aspects of competitive sports. For the women who participated, the conditions of Cline Gym proved to be the first obstacle to completion of a game. Referees usually called fouls, violations, and refereed from their knowledge of basketball rather than the approved DGWS rule book. The championship games were all played in one afternoon, requiring additional physical stamina on the part of the Sigma Kappa's and the Swingers. The Kappa Delta's repeated their performance of last year in claiming the championship. Throughout the season, it was a guessing game to see how many times the Director would change the schedule, times, and plans for tournament action.

In the men's division the same problems were experienced. Confusion was the main difficulty when the double-elimination tournament began. The officiating was even worse than in the women's competition. Some of the "referees" had never before called a game, and it appeared some didn't even know how to blow a whistle. Despite these factors, the final games were very exciting and close, featuring the Panthers and the TKE SugarBears. The Panthers defeated the TKE's in their first match of the closing round, but that was their first loss. After a well-played second contest, the SugarBears emerged the champions.

Granted, intramurals are directed towards recreation and fun for all participating. However, under the present conditions, it is not only unenjoyable, it is also unfair. To "Let the girls play" (implying the necessity to not call many contact fouls) the only objective achieved is a lot of hot tempers. By not having competent referees, the players get discouraged and again lose their temper. In the midst of all that, the true objective of intramurals has been lost.

Climate of Ideas Bristles With Insight, Diversity, Humor

Issues would not be issues if they did not have concerned individuals with solid opinions backing them up. To get an indication of the climate of ideas surrounding campus issues, staff members from the HACAWA conducted a series of on-the-spot man-in-the-street interviews. A diverse sampling of the LRC academic community was polled, including faculty members, students, and administrators. The most interesting and representative examples of their comments are presented on these pages. This is LRC speaking.

*The classes are endless
it seems,
Sometimes they are fun
But more often you sleep
through them,
Or take a few token notes . . .
To be flipped through in spare moments,
While your mind is on the night before at the Nail,
Or Someplace Else,
Or a weekend away,
The kid who sat next to you in convocation,
Any of a thousand things . . .
Anything . . .
Anything but the words
on the page in front of you.*

*There is never enough time
For the tedious pastime of playing student,
Especially
In the spring,
When the work begins to Catch up with you.*

As others whiled time away in conversation,
You studied in the cloudy buzz of voices,
Getting the chapter read,
Or the paper done
By 2:00 . . .
Breathing a sign of relief,
Then getting a new assignment,
Or remembering a neglected course,
And beginning again
To trudge the weary cycle . . .
The urgency of things undone intensified at night,
While you searched for silence
As your hall partied
And stereo sounds echoed through the night,
Until you tired of seeing books and papers
So you joined in the noise
Or spent time staring out the window Wondering where it all was leading to
And where it all began . . .

*It started so long ago—
Remember when books were beautiful,
And learning was exciting.
You were soaking it all in,
But you couldn't absorb it fast enough.*

*Every day was challenge and adventure.
Every day brought more wonder and awe.
Flowers bloomed —
And the world was sunshine . . .*

*And now the realization that life is not always that beautiful, that life is not that way anymore.
You push on until exhaustion, because there aren't enough hours
to attend to a student's duties,
And to be yourself, a person.
Your mind is on a yo-yo string,
And each time you come close to truth*

*You hurtle away again, Fighting the nausea of the momentum,
The ups and downs of being a student.
All the time praying that the string doesn't break . . .
It's an endless cycle of keeping yourself together for four years.*

EDITOR'S NOTE

To the Student Body of Lenoir Rhyne College:

In April of 1973 the initial plans for this edition of the HACAWA were formulated. One main idea — that of lessening the formality of the pictures — set the mood for the entire book. The previous editions of the HACAWA had fallen into a repetitious pattern — one could guess what was coming up on the next page. This is not meant as a criticism of the editors, for the task of producing a yearbook is almost insurmountable. The trend in yearbooks, however, is toward informality, so I looked upon the task of being editor as a challenge to create relevance in the book, rather than a chore to perpetuate dying interest.

This yearbook, like the world of which it is a small and seemingly insignificant part, has also had its share of problems. The difficulties centered around how to impartially represent within 256 pages the almost two thousand people who identify themselves with Lenoir Rhyne. Few people realize the amount of time, energy, and effort that is necessary to produce a yearbook. There is the deadline schedule which requires that all material be at the printer by the end of February. The cover and color pages must be submitted by December. A competent energetic staff undoubtedly lessens the load of the editor. Special thanks go to the photographers who spend many hours taking and developing pictures. In short, what this paragraph is trying to say is, 'don't be over-critical of our work unless you have met the challenge of working on a yearbook. Unless you have done so, you know little about the work that it requires.'

In closing, on behalf of myself and my staff, I challenge everyone to contribute the most of their time, energy, and effort to make tomorrow a better day.

Sincerely,

Anne Smevog
Editor-in-Chief

Was it that very good year,
the year you'd expected,
the year you'd dreamt of and planned for?

Or does it leave you with a taste of ashes left from the burning of rubbish?
Or does it merely fade into the sea, like of history, along with the past you never saw,
the people you never knew,
the things left unspoken?

What have you learned,
you who want to make a life and make it and your comrades?

Have you tried to reason,
to listen and comprehend,
or do you feel me touching you?

Ship of Long Term
